Technicians opening the air conditioning system in a vehicle using R-12, R-134a or R-1234yf are required to be certified in refrigerant recovery and recycling to be in compliance with Section 609 of the Clean Air Act Amendments of 1990.

The MACS technician certification program is approved by the U.S. EPA and MACS is the first Section 609 certification provider to certify a new technician training program to SAE J2845 under the SAE J2911 program.

Service facilities who fail to comply can suffer large fines.

Use this form to order a MACS Section 609 independent study book and test. Tests are $20 each and are available in English and Spanish.

When you receive the book and test:

Read the book.

Take the test. Keep a photo copy of the test.

Mail it back in the pre-addressed envelope.

MACS will have it graded, and a passing grade will receive a wall certificate and wallet card within 6 weeks.

A failing grade will receive a re-test.

A subsequent failure will require a test re-purchase.

Tests can be mailed to:

MACS-EIF

P.O. Box 88

Lansdale, PA 19446

Section 609 is a federal requirement
